WHY MULTITERIA IS BEST

Reliability is just the beginning of what Multiteria offers. At Multiteria, we work with operators to create product designs that make serving equipment more inviting, more flexible, and able to solve real world issues. Today's operations have less workers and require smart features to keep up with the demand and keep operators and customers safer. We call these smart features: "illities".

SERVICEABILITY CHANGEABILITY

exterior

- Easily removable and replaceable front and end panels make refurbishing, a design change or service access easy and affordable

DURABILITY

100% STAINLESS tubular construction

- Extremely strong, durable, and sanitary—especially important when counters need to be portable
- Food shield post extends to base of frame
- Extended posts support tray slides
- Lifetime warranty on core and shell

CLEANABILITY

- Removable under shelf for easy cleaning and sanitation of floor below
- Removable kick plates

CONVERTIBILITY

- Food guard converts from operator service to self service- no set screws or knobs
- Tubular food guard is very robust
- Extends to bottom of the entire frame. NO counter-top fasteners or screws. Available in stainless steel or black.

PORTABILITY

FLEXIBILITY

TIGHT LINK LOCKING SYSTEM

- Channel locks two or more units together
- Units can be configured or moved to another location

WHO WE ARE

Born from a desire to craft high-end front-of-house serving equipment, Multiteria took the quality of Lakeside’s manufacturing expertise since 1946, and expanded the product offerings to create a new brand, focused on polish, prestige, and profit-driven serving lines.

Today Multiteria® has not wavered from the original vision, but has expanded dramatically from the initial modular offerings. In addition to the high quality and exceptional product design, Multiteria has in-house designers and engineers, ISO 9001 manufacturing in Milwaukee, WI, available factory-tech installations or installation oversight, available on-site solid and quartz counter seaming, and a 98% on-time shipping rate.

Join the thousands who have chosen and proudly endorse Multiteria® as their foodservice serving equipment choice.
